Career Progression

Over the last 28 years I have been involved professionally with Police Service and different renowned National/International Non/Gov.t Training, Education and Research agencies, in the implementation of security, law enforcement, humanitarian and development projects in several units of Bangladesh Police and other non-Gov.t development organization, and UN Peace Keeping Mission. With my two post graduate degrees in Social Work, Applied Criminology & Police Management and Ph.D. I had the opportunity to work with UN Peace Keeping Mission twice in UNOCI, Ivory Coast in position of Deputy Commander of Bangladesh Formed Police Unit (BANFPU). I undertook several responsibilities in Police unit, related to administration, Education, Curriculum, Training, Research & Publication, operations, finance & budget, inventory, human resources, procurement and logistics management and liaison with homogeneous organization and communities. I have possessed a strong commitment, communication, effective management, leadership, police forces command, and coordination capabilities to work with different formal and informal stakeholders as well with staff from different culture and nationalities with the respect of gender sensitive motivational skills. I had the experience to deliver lecture on different police and society, legal reform, victim support services, security and force management, psycho-somatic behavior and motivation etc. in the police Staff College, Police academy & training centers and apart from these in the Non/Gov.t college and university level. With such long and diversified command and managerial experience in addition to my academic qualifications I am seeking challenging career opportunities anywhere. I am able speak English, French and Hindi and good in Arabic with mother tongue Bangla.
